

Day Thirteen

CLD ADVENT CALENDAR

6 WEBSITES TO LEARN SOMETHING NEW WHILE HAVING FUN

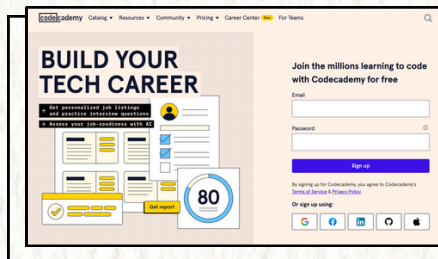

Happy 13th of December!

Today, we're excited to share with you a fun way to spend your quiet time at home. It's easy to overlook the incredible opportunities the internet has to offer – so many fascinating websites and endless things to discover! Here are six websites that make learning new things a joy. And to add a touch of humor, the last one is a super entertaining website that guides you to random corners of the internet.

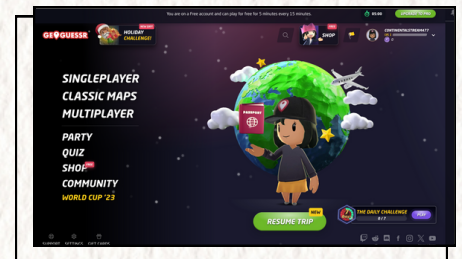

TYPINGCLUB

An interactive platform that teaches touch typing (typing with all your fingers and without checking the keyboard). It offers lessons, games, and activities to help improve your typing skills in an engaging way.

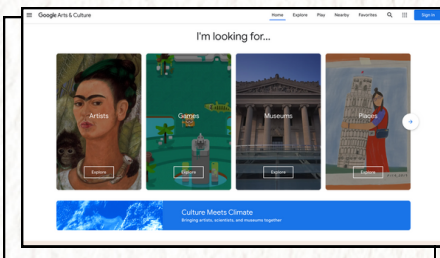

CODECADEMY

An excellent platform for learning programming languages interactively. The lessons are hands-on and provide instant feedback, making it a fun and effective way to learn how to code.

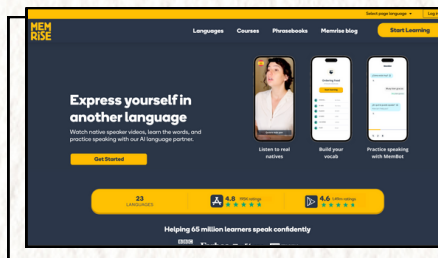

GEOGUESSR

A game where you're placed in a random location on Google Maps, and you have to guess where you are. It's a fun way to explore the world and learn about different landscapes and cultures.

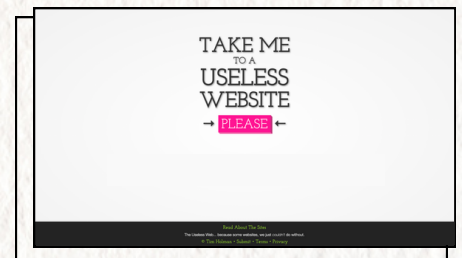

GOOGLE ARTS & CULTURE

Provides virtual tours of museums, art collections, and historical sites. It's an immersive way to explore the world of art and history from the comfort of your computer.

MEMRISE

A language learning platform that uses mnemonic techniques and interactive games to help users memorize vocabulary and phrases in a foreign language.

THE USELESS WEBSITE

For even more fun time for a day that you have nothing to do. Takes you to a series of amusing and quirky websites with just a click.